

Dr Najwa Touil

Morocco

Prof. Najwa Touil is a Professor of Radiology at Hassan II University of Casablanca, Morocco. She also serves as a consultant in Radiology at the Emergency Department of Ibn Rochd University Hospital of Casablanca.

Prof. Touil is the general secretary of the Moroccan Society of Radiology (SMR), she is an honorary member of the Moroccan Society of Interventional Radiology (SMRI) and is actively involved in all scientific activities of these societies including preparing annual conferences, planning and lecturing in workshops across Morocco.

She gives lectures about radiology in the emergency medicine university degree. Her main interest is body imaging and she has a special interest in biliary tract interventions including drainage and biopsies.