

Dr V Lalloo

Pretoria, South Africa

Emergency Medicine Specialist

MBChB; MMed (Emerg Med), FCEM, DipPEC, PGDipGUS

Dr Lalloo is an emergency medicine specialist working at Steve Biko Academic Hospital and the University of Pretoria, South Africa. Steve Biko Hospital has a large emergency unit which sees both adult and paediatric patients.

Dr Lalloo has a special interest in bedside Point-Of-Care-Ultrasound (POCUS). Her passion began with the eFAST in trauma patients and has since expanded to many spheres of POCUS, including cardiac and vascular access.

She has completed a postgraduate diploma in general ultrasound at UP and is an instructor and examiner for the Emergency Medicine Society of South Africa (EMSSA) POCUS course.