

*Delivering the promise
Owning the future*

Navigating Change: Exploring the Future of Apprenticeships

MONDAY 23 JUNE 11:40-12:40

COLLABORATION & PARTNERSHIPS Zone

ABOUT THIS SESSION

This interactive session unpacks the latest apprenticeship reforms and the future of Foundation Apprenticeships. Through discussion, live polling, and collaborative activities, delegates will explore the transition from frameworks to standards, the role of EPA and EPAOs, and how Awarding Organisations can best support the sector through change.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND THIS SESSION

Gain clarity on what's changing in apprenticeships, share your perspective, and hear from peers across the sector. Leave with a deeper understanding of the reforms, real-world insights into what's working (and what's not), and opportunities to shape and influence the future of apprenticeship delivery.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THIS SESSION

Curriculum leads, quality managers, awarding organisation and EPAO representatives, employer partners, and policy professionals involved in apprenticeship design, delivery, or regulation. Especially relevant for those navigating the transition from frameworks to standards and supporting the sector through evolving reforms.

SPEAKER OVERVIEW

Charlotte Freeman is a seasoned professional with over 20 years of experience in further education. She has spent the last 6 years in a senior leadership position, where she has demonstrated exceptional skills in managing and guiding educational institutions. Charlotte's expertise lies in Apprenticeship and End Point Assessment, areas where she has made significant contributions to the development and implementation of a vast range of standards. Her extensive experience spans all sectors covered by City and Guilds, showcasing her versatility and comprehensive understanding of vocational education.

Anita Crosland, Senior Manager Strategic Portfolio Planning, City & Guilds

Catherine Powell, Head of Product Management, City & Guilds

Rose Hadden, Head of Customer & Market Insights, City & Guilds