Tracking Learner Destinations and Progression: Understanding the Impact of Learning

TUESDAY 24 JUNE 15:45-16:45

TEACHING & LEARNING Zone

ABOUT THIS SESSION

As outcome-based funding and inspection expectations increase, tracking learner destinations has never been more important. This session explores practical, scalable methods for evidencing progression and impact, using both traditional approaches and AI-driven tools to map pathways, identify learner intent, and reduce admin burden.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND THIS SESSION

Learn how to effectively track and report learner outcomes across Adult Skills, Apprenticeships, and Skills Bootcamps. Discover digital solutions that support compliance while improving the learner journey, and gain insights into how progression data can strengthen funding, quality, and impact reporting.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THIS SESSION

MIS and data managers, quality and compliance leads, funding officers, and senior delivery staff responsible for tracking learner destinations and evidencing progression. Especially relevant for providers delivering Adult Skills, Apprenticeships, or Skills Bootcamps seeking scalable, tech-enabled solutions to meet funding and inspection requirements.

SPEAKER OVERVIEW

Rachel Butt has extensive knowledge and experience in further education and skills, having worked in the sector for over 17 years. As Director of Excellence at Learning Curve Group, who were inspected most recently in 2023, Rachel is passionate about ensuring a rich and positive learner experience and understands the potential that FE can provide to learners. She began her career as a teacher of Performing Arts and then progressed into both Senior Quality and Teaching and Learning posts.

Tom Aust has been involved in the FE sector for over 20 years, working at a senior level in colleges and private training providers covering curriculum, funding and business development. Tom has been at Learning Curve Group for the last 10 years and oversees the FE national sales team and all external activity with our partners, including funding, learning content, online services and sales.
