EAGE

The European Association of Geoscientists and Engineers (EAGE) is a global professional, non-profit association for geoscientists and engineers with 19.000 members worldwide. The objective is to collect and distribute technical knowledge. EAGE organizes events and publishes a monthly magazine for its members and 5 scientific journals. All members of EAGE are professionally involved in (or studying) geophysics, petroleum exploration, geology, reservoir engineering, mining and mineral exploration, civil engineering, tunneling and environmental matters. EAGE's head office is located in the Netherlands with regional offices in Moscow, Dubai, Kuala Lumpur and Bogota.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Advances in Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAV) technology have allowed for the expansion of imaging and remote sensing techniques in both traditional and new applications. In recognition of this emerging technology EAGE is organizing this workshop on UAVs to explore the potential application of these platforms to the oil and gas industry with a focus on: platform technology, remote sensing, automated image analysis and processing, 3-dimensional modelling, sensor and communication technology, European civil aviation regulations and specific application to oil and gas industry processes.

This three-day workshop will feature presentations, panel discussions, field demonstrations, and networking opportunities bridging expertise in the UAV community and oil and gas industry. Attendees will see presentations from E&P operators, Unmanned Aerial Vehicle professionals, academia and technology suppliers that will focus on different components of Unmanned Aerial Vehicle systems. A special focus will also be made on existing and emerging UAV regulations in Europe as a support for this new business.
