GENERAL INFORMATION

EAGE

The European Association of Geoscientists and Engineers (EAGE) is a global professional, non-profit association for geoscientists and engineers with 19.000 members worldwide. The objective is to collect and distribute technical knowledge. EAGE organizes events and publishes a monthly magazine for its members and 5 scientific journals. All members of EAGE are professionally involved in (or studying) geophysics, petroleum exploration, geology, reservoir engineering, mining and mineral exploration, civil engineering, tunneling and environmental matters. EAGE's head office is located in the Netherlands with regional offices in Moscow, Dubai, Kuala Lumpur and Bogota.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

The geology of SouthEast Asia is highly complex due to combinations of regional tectonics, large structuring events and diverse depositional systems. After over 100 years of exploration and exploitation in the region, hydrocarbons are becoming more difficult to find and exploit, and many frontier areas are yet to be explored. New advances in technology and methodology offer improved subsurface characterization, leading to greater prospectivity beyond the wellbore. Such is the demand for better and more accurate understanding of basin characteristics and reservoir behavior that pre-drilled reservoir and hydrocarbon prediction techniques are more important today than ever. EAGE Asia Pacific Virtual Geoscience Week aims to gather Petroleum Geoscience experts from across Asia Pacific to share and discuss their ideas and experiences of the latest methods and technologies, thereby promoting scientific advancement in this exciting field.
