WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

The event will be held in Buenos Aires, Argentina, 3-4 October 2024 to bring in experts to discuss new ideas, trends, and experiences covering all phases of an EOR project: research, planning, field implementation, and surveillance. As the existing oil fields mature, including the unconventional, EOR methods have been gaining significant momentum globally.

Argentina and the other major oil producing Latin American countries are no exception to these trends. The workshop will offer new fundamental and practical insights into the EOR methods and provide first-hand experience from successful operators, service companies, government representatives and academia. There is value to be unlocked in every aspect of an EOR project.
