Sponsorship Request for 3rd International Post-Tuberculosis Symposium Stellenbosch, South Africa

On behalf of the Symposium Steering Committee, I would like to extend a warm invitation to join us for the 3rd International Post-Tuberculosis Symposium, which will be held at the STIAS Institute in Stellenbosch South Africa from 14-16 April 2025.

Despite advances in treatment, TB remains one of the leading global killers among infectious diseases. However, recent data indicate that those cured of their TB disease suffer from poor long-term health and an increased risk of death. In fact, there is growing recognition that post-TB lung disease may be one of the leading contributors to chronic lung disease globally, with up to 90 million people (~1% of the world's population) impacted. Importantly, long-term complications after TB are not limited to the lungs. TB survivors are known to suffer from increased rates of cardiovascular disease, cancer, and poor mental health. Yet, to date, there are no interventions that have been shown to prevent or reduce the burden of post-TB sequelae.

By bringing together nearly 300 global thought leaders, clinicians, researchers, TB survivors, and other stakeholders, the Post-Tuberculosis Symposium has become the leading venue for advancing science and clinical care to address the growing global burden of post-TB sequelae. At the three-day Symposium, global experts review recent advances in the field and highlight persistent gaps in our knowledge of how to diagnose, treat, and manage the spectrum of post-TB sequelae. Interactive workshops complement the formal presentations by bringing together multidisciplinary, multispecialty groups to identify both the most urgent priorities for the field and the most promising means to address the ongoing challenges facing TB survivors and the providers and health systems that care for them.

“The Post-Tuberculosis Symposium serves as a beacon of hope for TB survivors, providing a platform for sharing experiences, disseminating knowledge, and fostering community. [This] helps us know that we are not alone in our journey and that there are resources available to help us navigate the complexities of life after TB. The impact of an event like the Post-Tuberculosis Symposium extends far beyond its duration, leaving a lasting legacy of hope, resilience, and empowerment for TB survivors worldwide.” --- quote from a TB survivor after the 2nd Symposium in 2023

In order to support the important work of this Symposium, we are looking for partners in academia, industry, non-profit, and community-based organizations to help expand our global impact. On the following page, you can find detailed sponsorship levels and benefits for your review. If you are interested in becoming a sponsor, please contact me at the email below.

Thank you in advance for your time and consideration, and we look forward to partnering with you in the months and years to come.

Best regards,

On behalf of the 3rd International Post-Tuberculosis Symposium Steering Committee
