

IAGP Students & Young Professionals | e - Poster Competition

We invite students & young professionals to submit their scientific and group related work to the e-Poster Competition, organized as a part of the 1st IAGP Online Symposium ''Resonance Across Borders in Digital Times'', December 12-13, 2026.

Who can Apply?

The competition is open to students & young professionals aged 40 and under.
Participants are required to register for the 1st IAGP Online Symposium. IAGP membership is not required to participate in the competition.

Important Dates

Abstract submission deadline:
30/11/2026

Awards

IAGP membership scholarships to the five finalists. More details to be announced soon.

More information

For further information please visit: https://globalevents.eventsair.com/iagpsymposium

e-Poster Template

All authors must submit their e-poster by email to crosiou@globalevents.gr in PDF format, consisting of one page in portrait orientation.

Please include the following information in your email:

- Your first and last name (including co-authors, if applicable)
- Your age
- Your country
- Your institutional affiliation (if applicable)
- The title of your abstract
- Are you a member of IAGP?

The title must be placed at the top of the e-poster, followed by the author(s)' names and the institution where the work was carried out, if applicable. If the title is too long, you may use a shorter version.

Original research e-posters must include the following sections:

1. Title
2. Aims
3. Methods
4. Results
5. Conclusions

All charts, tables, diagrams, and photographs must be large, clear, easy to read, and understandable. Captions and legends should be brief.

Organize the e-poster so that readers can easily follow the content. Use numbers, letters, or arrows to show the correct reading order. These should be large, bold, and consistent throughout the poster.

Eligibility and Participation

The competition is open to students & young professionals aged 40 and under.
Participants are required to register for the 1st IAGP Online Symposium.
IAGP membership is not required to participate in the competition.

The five selected finalists will be invited to present their work during the 1st IAGP Online Symposium, December 12–13, 2026. Presenting authors must be available to deliver their presentations during the symposium.

Language and Originality

E-posters may be submitted in English or Spanish.
All submissions must represent original work and adhere to academic and professional ethical standards.

--Word Limit: E-posters must not exceed 500 words, excluding the title, authors' names, institutional affiliations, and references.

--References: All references and in-text citations must follow the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th edition guidelines.

Evaluation Process

All eligible e-posters will undergo a single-round evaluation by an international jury.
Submissions will be assessed based on scientific quality, originality, methodological rigor, clarity of presentation, and relevance to the field of group psychotherapy and group processes.

Awards

The five highest-ranked submissions will receive a one-year IAGP membership scholarship supported by the Ali Nawara Memorial Fund.