"Attending the BioBusiness Winter School was an eye-opening experience that wiped out my initial scepticism. The ingredients: tons of inspiring talks by speakers who are leaders and hands-on experts in Bio/Life science industry; an overview of the career paths for a professional in the life sciences and the skills wanted for switching to Industry from Academia; a bunch of concepts in business, intellectual property and entrepreneurship; a pinch of networking sessions every here and there. I've got energized from this experience, gained professional awareness, and grew my professional network on LinkedIn. Recommended!"
