Transforming the Future of Healthcare Together!

On 10–11 March 2027, the Health and Life Sciences ecosystem will once again converge in the Netherlands for the 14th edition of Innovation for Health (11 March), held back-to-back with the Global Investor Forum (10 March) in Utrecht.

Under the theme “Transforming Healthcare Together”, this two-day experience brings together the people and organisations turning bold ideas into real-world impact—from breakthrough science to scalable healthcare solutions.

Across innovators, investors, policymakers, healthcare providers, corporates, start-ups, patient organisations, researchers, and tech transfer professionals, the event serves as a central meeting point for the entire health innovation value chain. It is where science meets capital, and where partnerships are formed that accelerate adoption and transformation in healthcare.

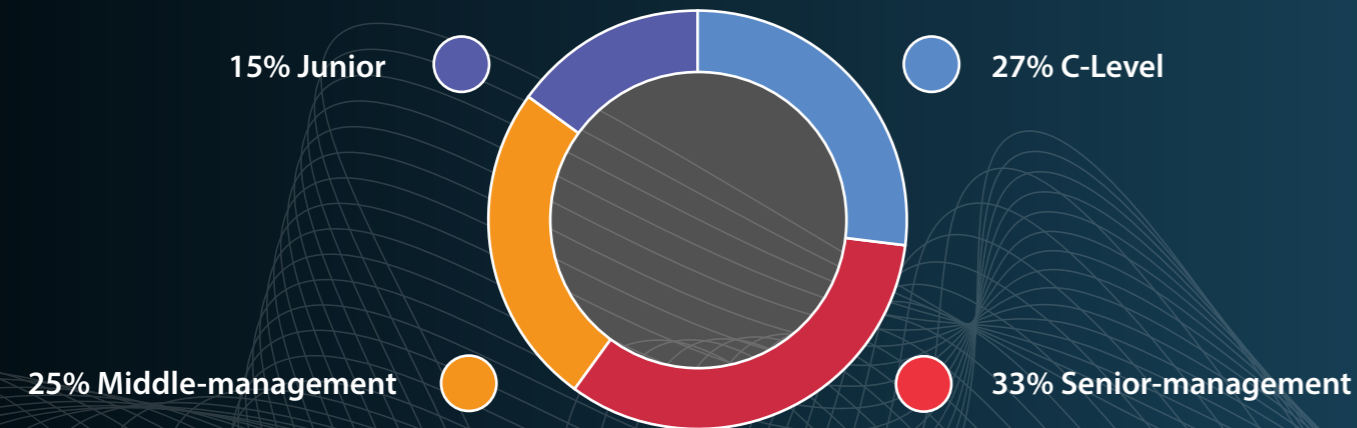

“Innovation for Health offers a great platform that brings together a wide range of perspectives across healthcare. The diversity of topics and speakers creates an engaging environment for learning, exchange, and inspiration. It is a very positive experience and a valuable opportunity to connect innovation with real-world impact.”

"Year after year, Innovation for Health keeps pushing the boundaries of "What makes a good science conference?", championing a wonderful blend of innovation, impact, and 'gezellig netwerken'"
