

Professor Schmidlin studied Dental Medicine at the University of Zurich and got his degree in 1998. Since 2001 he lectures in mainly in Restorative Dentistry, Periodontology and Periimplantology. He is Honorary Professor at the Sir John Walsh Research Institute (University of Otago, NZL) and has (co-)authored more than 280 articles listed in PubMed. He is editorial board member of several academic journals. His main clinical and research interests are the prevention and non-/minimally invasive therapeutic approaches.