MBG AUDIT APPROACH

OUR AUDIT METHODOLOGY

A typical risk-based approach

- In this step, we establish and confirm our understanding of management and evaluate and identify the scope of our services.
- In addition, one of the core elements here is to assess internal control at the entity level and identify and understand business and other risks (including IT environment complexity and fraud risks), and, as part of our audit planning, design our services to address these risks and their financial statement implications.

We use this knowledge to assess your financial reporting risk, particularly in business-critical areas. We identify issues early to allow time for thorough investigation

Robust internal controls are key to a more stable organization. Wherever possible, we also test your internal controls and suggest necessary amends.

- Drawing upon our understanding of the business and our risk assessment, we execute our audit procedures accordingly.
- Our procedures include tests of controls, when appropriate, tests of journal entries and other mandatory fraud procedures, substantive procedures of significant account balances and transactions and general audit procedures. Continuous communication, both internally and with you, is critical for delivering a seamless audit.

This is the wrap-up step of the engagement. The key deliverables in this step are review reports/audit opinions on financial statements and management letters designed to bring to your attention significant audit and system and control issues.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES AS MANAGEMENT

Financial statements, accounting records and internal controls

As Management of the Company, you are responsible for maintaining adequate accounting records and an appropriate system of internal control for the Company. You are also responsible for preparing the annual report and the financial statements that present fairly the state of affairs of the Company and of the profit or loss of the Company for that period in accordance with IFRS for SME.

In preparing the financial statements, you are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistency; make judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Company will continue in business.

You are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that show and explain the Company transactions; and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the Company's financial position.

You are responsible for maintaining appropriate internal control to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

You are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Company and hence for taking reasonable steps to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

You are responsible for filing the financial statements with the relevant regulatory authority within the requisite time limit. Failure to do so can result in action being taken against yourself and the Company.

You are responsible for ensuring that the Company complies with laws and regulations that apply to its activities, and preventing non-compliance and detecting any that occurs.

You are required under UAE Federal Law No. (2) of 2015 to make available to us, as and when required, all the Company accounting records and related financial information, including minutes of management and shareholders' meetings and unrestricted access to persons within the entity from whom we determine it necessary to obtain audit evidence.

Preparation of Financial Statements

Assistance with the preparation of Financial Statements does not form a part of the audit function, but we shall discuss the Company's accounting policies with you, particularly in any problem areas, and we may propose adjusting entries for your consideration.

Electronic Publication

We recognize that you may wish to publish your financial statements and our audit report on your website or distribute them by means such as e-mail. If you chose to do so, it is your responsibility to ensure that such publication properly presents the financial information and any auditors' report.

You agree to advise us of any intended electronic publication before it occurs, and we reserve the right to withhold consent to the electronic publication of our audit report if we assess the audited financial statements or our report to be published in an inappropriate manner.

If you choose to publish our audit report electronically, the following wording must also be published:

"Financial statements are published on the Company website in accordance with legislation in the United Arab Emirates governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements, which may vary from legislation in other jurisdictions. The maintenance and integrity of the Company website is the responsibility of the directors. The directors' responsibility also extends to the ongoing integrity of the financial statements contained therein."

Access to audit working papers

Our working papers and other internal documentation created for the purpose of carrying out our duties as auditors belong solely to MBC Auditing and Accounting and will not be provided to you. We may however be required to give access to our audit working papers for regulatory purposes or because of other statutory obligations.

Money Laundering

We wish to draw your attention to your obligations under the United Arab Emirates Federal Law No (4) of 2002 Regarding Criminalization of Money Laundering. Under this Law, You are responsible to ensure that Property should not be derived from any of the offences listed under Article (2) of the Act.

OUR RESPONSIBILITIES AS AN AUDITOR

Audit under International Standards on Auditing issued by International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board

The responsibility for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for the prevention and detection of fraud, error and non-compliance with law or regulations rests with you. However, we shall endeavor to plan our audit so that we have a reasonable expectation of detecting material misstatements in the financial statements or accounting records (including those resulting from fraud, error or non-compliance with law or regulations), but our examination should not be relied upon to disclose all such material misstatements or frauds, errors or instances of non-compliance as may exist.

Our legal and professional duty is to make a report to the shareholders stating whether, in our opinion, the financial statements of the Company which we have audited present fairly the state of affairs of the Company and of the profit or loss of the Company for that period in accordance with the law. In arriving at our opinion we are required by law to consider the following matters, and to report on any, in respect of which, we are not satisfied:

- whether proper accounting records have been kept by the Company;
- whether the Company's balance sheet and income statement are in agreement with the accounting records;
- whether we have obtained all the information and explanations which we consider necessary for the purpose of our audit; and
- whether there are any violations of UAE Federal Law No. (2) of 2015 or other regulatory authority or of the Constitution of the Company.

We are only required to make a specific reference to these matters in our report if we are not satisfied.

We are required to read the other information issued with audited financial statements and to consider whether it is consistent with the financial statements. This other information would include, where applicable, a chairman's statement, operating and financial review, financial highlights, corporate governance statement, etc. If we become aware of any apparent misstatements or material inconsistencies with the financial statements, we draw these to your attention. We also draw to your attention any apparent misstatements of which we become aware during the work that we carry out to enable us to report that the information given in the directors' report is consistent with the financial statements. We are only required to make specific reference to these matters in our report if we are not satisfied.

We also have a professional responsibility to refer in our report to instances of material non-compliance with applicable accounting standards.

Scope of audit

Our audit will be conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing issued by International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board, and will include such tests of transactions and of the existence, ownership and valuation of assets and liabilities as we consider necessary. We shall obtain an understanding of the accounting and internal control systems in order to assess their adequacy as a basis for the preparation of the financial statements and to establish whether adequate accounting records have been maintained by the Company. We shall expect to obtain such appropriate evidence as we consider sufficient to enable us to draw reasonable conclusions there from.

The nature and extent of our procedures will vary according to our assessment of the Company accounting system and, where we wish to place reliance on it, the internal financial control system, and may cover any aspect of the business's operations that we consider appropriate.

Our audit includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgments made by the Management in the preparation of financial statements and whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the Company's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

Because of the test nature and other inherent limitations of an audit, together with the inherent limitations of any accounting and internal control system, there is an unavoidable risk that even some material misstatements, errors, fraud or other illegal acts having a direct and material financial impact may remain undiscovered. Because of the characteristics of fraud, particularly those involving concealment through collusion and falsified documentation, an audit designed and executed in accordance with auditing standards might not detect a material fraud.

Further, while effective internal control reduces the likelihood that errors, fraud or other illegal acts will occur and remain undetected, it does not eliminate that possibility. For these reasons we cannot ensure that errors, fraud or other illegal acts, if present will be, detected.

Our audit is not designed to identify all significant weaknesses in the Company's systems but, if such weaknesses come to our notice during the course of our audit which we think should be brought to your attention, we shall report them to you.

We shall request sight of all documents or statements which are due to be issued with the financial statements.

Reporting

Our audit report will include responsibilities of the management and the auditors with respect to the financial statements. It will also include the procedures performed by us and sufficiency of the audit evidence obtained to express opinion on the financial statements. We expect to report on the financial statements as follows:

"In our opinion, the aforementioned financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Company, as at December 31, 2023, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with IFRS for SME.

The form and content of our report may need to be amended in light of our audit findings.

Management representations

From time to time, we may have to rely on oral representations by management which are uncorroborated by other audit evidence. Where they relate to matters which are material to the financial statements, we will request that you provide written confirmation of them. In particular, where misstatements in the financial statements that we bring to your attention are not adjusted, we are required to obtain your reasons in writing.

Use of report

As noted above, our report will be made solely to the Company members, as a body. Our audit work will be undertaken so that we might state to the Company members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditors' report and for no other purpose. In those circumstances, and to the fullest extent permitted by law, we will not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Company and the Company members as a body, for our audit work, for our audit report or for the opinions we form.

Once we have issued our report we have no further direct responsibility in relation to the financial statements for that financial year. However, where a general meeting is held at which the financial statements are laid, we expect that you will inform us of any material event occurring between the date of our report and the date of that meeting.

Communication with those charged with governance

We will communicate certain information to you, including:

- Any matters relevant to the firm's independence and integrity & objectivity of the audit engagement partner and audit staff
- An outline of the nature and scope of the work that we propose to undertake
- Our views about the qualitative aspects of the Company's accounting practices and financial reporting
- Uncorrected misstatements other than those that are clearly trivial; and
- Material weaknesses in internal financial control identified during the audit

Such communication may be oral or in writing. However, we will report in writing any findings from the audit that we consider to be significant or to confirm that there are no matters that we wish to report in writing. Any such report may not be disclosed to third parties without our prior written consent. Such consent will be granted only on the basis that such reports are not prepared with the interests of anyone other than the Company in mind and that we accept no duty or responsibility to any other party as concerns the reports.
