We know the destination; we don't know the way there (but we're trying lots of different paths)

Roadmaps aplenty – some common elements

Emissions Reduction Potential by Transition Measures In 2050

A complex topic requires a balanced panel

The aviation industry is not credible in decarbonisation and should be taxed and limited in its growth to ensure progress to Net Zero .”

EU policies around SAF are only about sticks (mandates, fines, taxes) whereas the US is all about carrots (tax incentives, subsidies).”

Airports are powerless to deliver aviation decarbonization as they only control a tiny share of total climate impacts.”

ReFuel EU will lead to SAF supply at every union airport.”

Hydrogen in aviation is too remote and too complex to really make an impact before 2050.”

What gives you hope that aviation can meet the ‘mother of all challenges’?.”
