OVERVIEW

Surgery for pelvic pathology has been shown to improve natural fertility in some women and for some women who require assisted conception. With increasing availability and success of assisted conception treatment, the opportunities for learning reproductive surgical skills are limited. This Masterclass offers a great line-up of expert faculty and features interactive presentations and hands on advanced laparoscopic and hysteroscopic surgical skills training, relevant to manage common gynaecological problems associated with infertility.

WHY ATTEND

- Update your knowledge of the surgical options for women with common gynaecological conditions affecting fertility: tubal damage, pelvic and intra-uterine adhesions, endometriosis, uterine fibroids and endometrial polyps.
- Learn top tips from internationally recognised experts
- Undertake relevant simulated practical skills training

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

- Consultants or trainees with an interest in gynaecological endoscopy or reproductive medicine
- Gynaecologists in the independent sector wishing to update their reproductive surgery skills

BOOKING FEES

The single day course costs £375 and includes interactive lectures delivered by a faculty of experts, hands-on surgical training, lunch and refreshments and VAT. Places note that the places are restricted.
