

The University of Vienna Biology Building (UBB) is located at Djerassiplatz 1, 1030 Vienna in the St. Marx area.

Public Transit Options

- Subway: Line U3 to Schlachthausgasse (walk a short distance via Markhofgasse).
- Tram: Line 18 to Viehmarktasse (stops right by the area) or Line 71 to St. Marx.
- Bus: Line 74A to Viehmarktasse.
- S-Bahn (Train): Line S7 to St. Marx (direct connection if coming from the airport or city center).

Arriving from Vienna International Airport

- Take the S-Bahn S7 directly toward the city and get off at the Sankt Marx station. From the airport heading into the city, the S7 traditionally leaves at 18 and 48 past the hour (e.g., 14:18, 14:48).
A standard adult ticket from Vienna International Airport to the city center (including the UBB building area) costs €5.50.

Note that because the airport is outside the city limits, you need an extra ticket extension if you already have a Vienna public transit pass.

- The City Airport Train (CAT) is a direct express service connecting Vienna International Airport non-stop with the central transit hub Wien Mitte. From there you can take the bus 74A to the UBB.
Important Route Update: Due to major rail network renovations in the city, between September 7, 2026, and October 31, 2027, the CAT will temporarily operate as a high-quality premium bus service rather than a train. To maintain fast travel times, they are bumping up service frequency to every 12 minutes in each direction.

Standard fares for adult travelers are fixed:

Single Trip (One-Way): €14.90
