

Prof Nadiya Ahmed

Prof Nadiya Ahmed is the associate professor in Department Critical Care at University Free State. Published nationally and internationally including participation in the development of national guidelines. Prof Ahmed is a reviewer for international and national journals. Her Interests are in critical care in antimicrobials, source control, nutrition and expanding critical care knowledge.