

TAHPERD Handbook of Duties & Procedures for Officers

The Texas Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance is the primary professional organization for developing and promoting the disciplines and professions of health, physical education, recreation, and dance in the State of Texas. The Association is a professional organization committed to the development of knowledge and programs that foster active and healthy lifestyles and to the enhancement of skilled and aesthetic motor performance.

As a member-driven association, the officers are elected by the membership to develop, monitor, and utilize the rules of governance to carry out the business of the Association. The success of TAHPERD continues to be the result of shared governance and the cooperative efforts of volunteer leaders. TAHPERD governance is structured such that all volunteers are expected to work together in their decision-making. This structure also provides an “elect” year for new officers to learn the governance process and the strategic plan of their particular area. The Officers’ Handbook describes the duties and responsibilities of the officers of TAHPERD.

Executive Committee

The Executive Committee is composed of the President, President-elect, Past President, and Executive Director. As a structure of the highest elected officers and the State Office Director, their collaborative governing efforts for TAHPERD carry some of the highest responsibilities. Some of these responsibilities include:

1. multiple meetings (either face-to-face, conference calls, or email) to assure that Board action is being implemented and to conduct Association business between Board meetings;
2. to develop plans with the State Office for the convention and conferences;
3. to monitor the establishment and progress of goals by the Divisions, Sections, and Committees; and
4. to monitor the work and effectiveness of the Executive Director

The Executive Committee must be knowledgeable of the operation of all governance structures and initiate action to ensure proper supervision and adequate discharge of responsibilities and duties.

The Executive Committee supervises the Executive Director for the Board of Directors who has the ultimate responsibility for the employment of the Executive Director. While the Executive Director is responsible to all TAHPERD members, the office is a professional position with responsibilities and duties comparable to those of the three Presidents in scope and importance.

President

The President is responsible for the effective shared governance of the Association. This includes the Executive Committee, Board of Directors, Representative Assembly, TAHPERD committees, Trustees, and Texas Foundation for HPERD. While the responsibility for all officers and committee chairs are under the direction of the President, immediate supervision should be delegated. For example, the Vice Presidents should supervise the officers in their respective divisions and sections.

As the presiding officer of the Board of Directors, the President serves as the Chair of the Executive Committee, Board of Directors, and Representative Assembly. Through consultation with the Executive Committee, the presiding officer develops the agendas and conducts the meetings.

Outlined hereinafter are specific duties of the President, categorized according to general function. Where applicable these duties should be examined and implemented in relation to those listed under the same headings for the Executive Director.

Appointments

Through consultation with the Executive Committee, the President makes appointments for the Association structures listed below. The appointments are made while he/she is serving as President-elect when the selection and notification are done prior to the effective date of the appointments. Other appointments are made as needed and in accordance with the Bylaws and/or Operating Codes. Appointments must be made within restrictions imposed by the Bylaws and/or Operating Codes. The Executive Director will provide a list of all committees with members' terms and descriptions of the vacancies to be filled. The appointments will be included in the 21-day mailing to the Board of Directors prior to the Fall Board meeting. The Board of Directors must approve all appointments.

1. Members of Standing Committees whose terms will expire at the upcoming convention.
2. Chairs of Standing Committees. If the current committee chair still has time remaining in her/his term, and the President wishes to change the Chair appointment, it is the responsibility of the President to contact the current Chair and notify him/her of the change. If the President chooses to have the current chair with remaining time in her/his term as Chair, the President should confirm this reappointment with the current Chair.
3. The term of the members and Chairs of a President's Ad Hoc Committees will coincide with that of the appointing President. If an incoming President wishes to continue, and thus reappoint, a previous ad hoc committee, he/she may do so and should confirm the appointment with the ad hoc committee members.
